

Goldline supports Amansie South Assembly

News Desk Report

GOLDLINE Mining Ghana Limited, a fully-owned Ghanaian mining company, has donated items worth thousands of cedis to the Amansie South District Assembly to help drive the development agenda of the assembly.

The items included 300 bags of cement, 150 LED street bulbs, 20 metal camp beds, two executive office tables and two swivel chairs.

Making the presentation at Manso-Adubia, the district capital, last Tuesday, the Managing Director of the company, Mr Boakye Yiadom, said the company took keen interest in the development of the district and the nation in general.

He said although the company was yet to start full operations, it had already shown commitment to the progress of the district.

Mr Boakye said the cement would be used to build a permanent offices for the various departments of the assembly while the street bulbs would help to illuminate the district.

With regard to the metal camp beds, he said they would be given to the Manso-Adubia Senior High School (SHS) to help address the problem of lack of beds in the school.

He said the company was excited about the President's efforts to revive the National Ambulance Service and promised that it would continue to support the service to deliver.

Appreciation

The District Chief Executive (DCE), Mr William Bediako Asarte, who received the items, commended Goldline Mining Ghana Limited for the kind gesture and said it had been of great help to the district.

He urged the company not to hesitate to approach the assembly for the necessary support.
